

Dear Walden Triathlon Club,

Please accept my congratulations on behalf of British Triathlon Federation on winning your regional event of the year award. Since the introduction of Regional Event of the Year in 2007 the award has been fiercely contested within the regions, meaning those successfully winning the title truly deserve the recognition.

All regional winners progressed as their regions nominations for British Triathlon Event of the Year, an award much sought after by many organisers. Past winners of this award have truly been the highest quality events in the UK, including Windsor Triathlon and the National Club Relays.

At a national level, the award is decided by votes from the British Triathlon Major Events Committee, made up of representatives of all the home nations and the British Triathlon Board.

At the British Triathlon Annual Awards dinner we were delighted to announce the Gower Peninsula Triathlon in Wales as the BTF Event of the Year 2008.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank for all your hard work throughout the 2008 season, triathlon does not exist without events and the people who organise them, making the contribution of event organiser vital to the success of the sport.

I wish you a very successful 2009,

Yours Sincerely,

John Muddeman
Events Manager
